RUSSELL CLARK GIBBS

Russell Clark Gibbs of Grand Junction, Michigan, passed away March 21, 2023 at the age of 83 at Kairos Dwelling Hospice in Kalamazoo, MI. He was born the only child of Ross Gibbs and Hilda von Stommes in Los Angeles, CA.

Ross moved his family back to Laingsburg, MI, where his adoptive family lived, then settled in Olivet, MI. Russ graduated from Olivet College and attended Gordon Divinity School in Wenham, MA. It was there that he met Hazel Bachman in the shared dining hall with Gordon College. They were married on August 15, 1964, in Kirkwood, PA by Hazel's Pastor father.

They then settled in Michigan where Russ held different jobs at different times and in different cities: City Directory, Lansing; Wayne Bureau of Social Aid, Detroit; Employment Counselor with MESCC, Detroit, Grand Rapids and Petoskey; JOB CORPS and Kent CAP, Grand Rapids. He also was a gunsmith and taught evening classes in Grand Rapids and opened his own shop for a time.

He finally settled in the Grand Junction area where he raised registered dairy goats for many years, until he became interim pastor at Bloomingdale Bible Church and then full-time pastor for over 20 years.

Russ loved baseball and coached all of his sons in Little League; 2 in Grand Rapids and 2 in Bloomingdale; but his main love was studying and teaching God's Word.

Russ is survived by his wife, Hazel (of almost 59 years) and his four sons, Daniel, David, James, and Stephen, and 11 grandchildren.

There will be a visitation at Bloomingdale Bible Church, 215 Chestnut Street in Bloomingdale at 10:00 a.m., April 29, with a memorial service to follow with Reverend Dave Youngs presiding.

Those wishing to offer expressions of sympathy may make a memorial contribution to the Bloomingdale Bible Church or mail to the church at P.O. Box 266, Bloomingdale, MI, 49026.

HELP OUR RIVERS! Let's Volunteer!

Volunteers have been working with the Van Buren Conservation District (VBCD) and Two Rivers Coalition (TRC) to collect insects in streams throughout Van Buren County for a decade. Aquatic insects tell us many different things about the quality of water they live in and they can be the first indicators of issues within the water. Insects like caddisfly larvae and mayfly nymphs, are sensitive to pollution, so if these insects are being found in our water bodies it shows that the water is healthy.

For years, many volunteers have sampled insects from a dozen stream and river sites on the Black and Paw Paw Rivers every spring and fall. When we have enough volunteers at this event, we can sample at each site. The more sites we can monitor, the better picture we get of the health of our waters. Using the insects we gather, we can accurately measure the help of a stretch of river or stream.

The insects we find help us understand our water quality and serve as a red flag when there are changes over the years. Using a statewide protocol, teams of four to five collect aquatic insects along a small stretch of the stream. One person wears chest waders and is in the stream using a net to scoop in promising looking spots. Another person empties the contents of the net into a bucket and carries it to the stream bank where the rest of the team is waiting. These team members pick through the mud, leaves, and bark looking for anything that wriggles. These are the insects in their larva or nymph form. These "bugs" are then preserved in alcohol and taken back for expert identification. Each team does two sites, usually one river site and one small stream site. We need your help to continue this volunteer effort. Volunteers meet at the Lawrence River Park off of Paw Paw St., Lawrence on the Paw Paw River.

All necessary equipment will be provided by the VBCD. It could be a bit chilly (or a bit warm) in early May and we will be working in and around water, so please dress appropriately!

Let us know you are coming so we know how many teams we can plan on. Everyone is welcome, but we ask that individuals under the age of 18 be accompanied by a parent, legal guardian, or responsible adult.

If you have any questions, or would like to sign up, contact Alex Florian at invasivesed@vanburencd.org or 269-633-9044.
